ANNAUL REPORT

of the

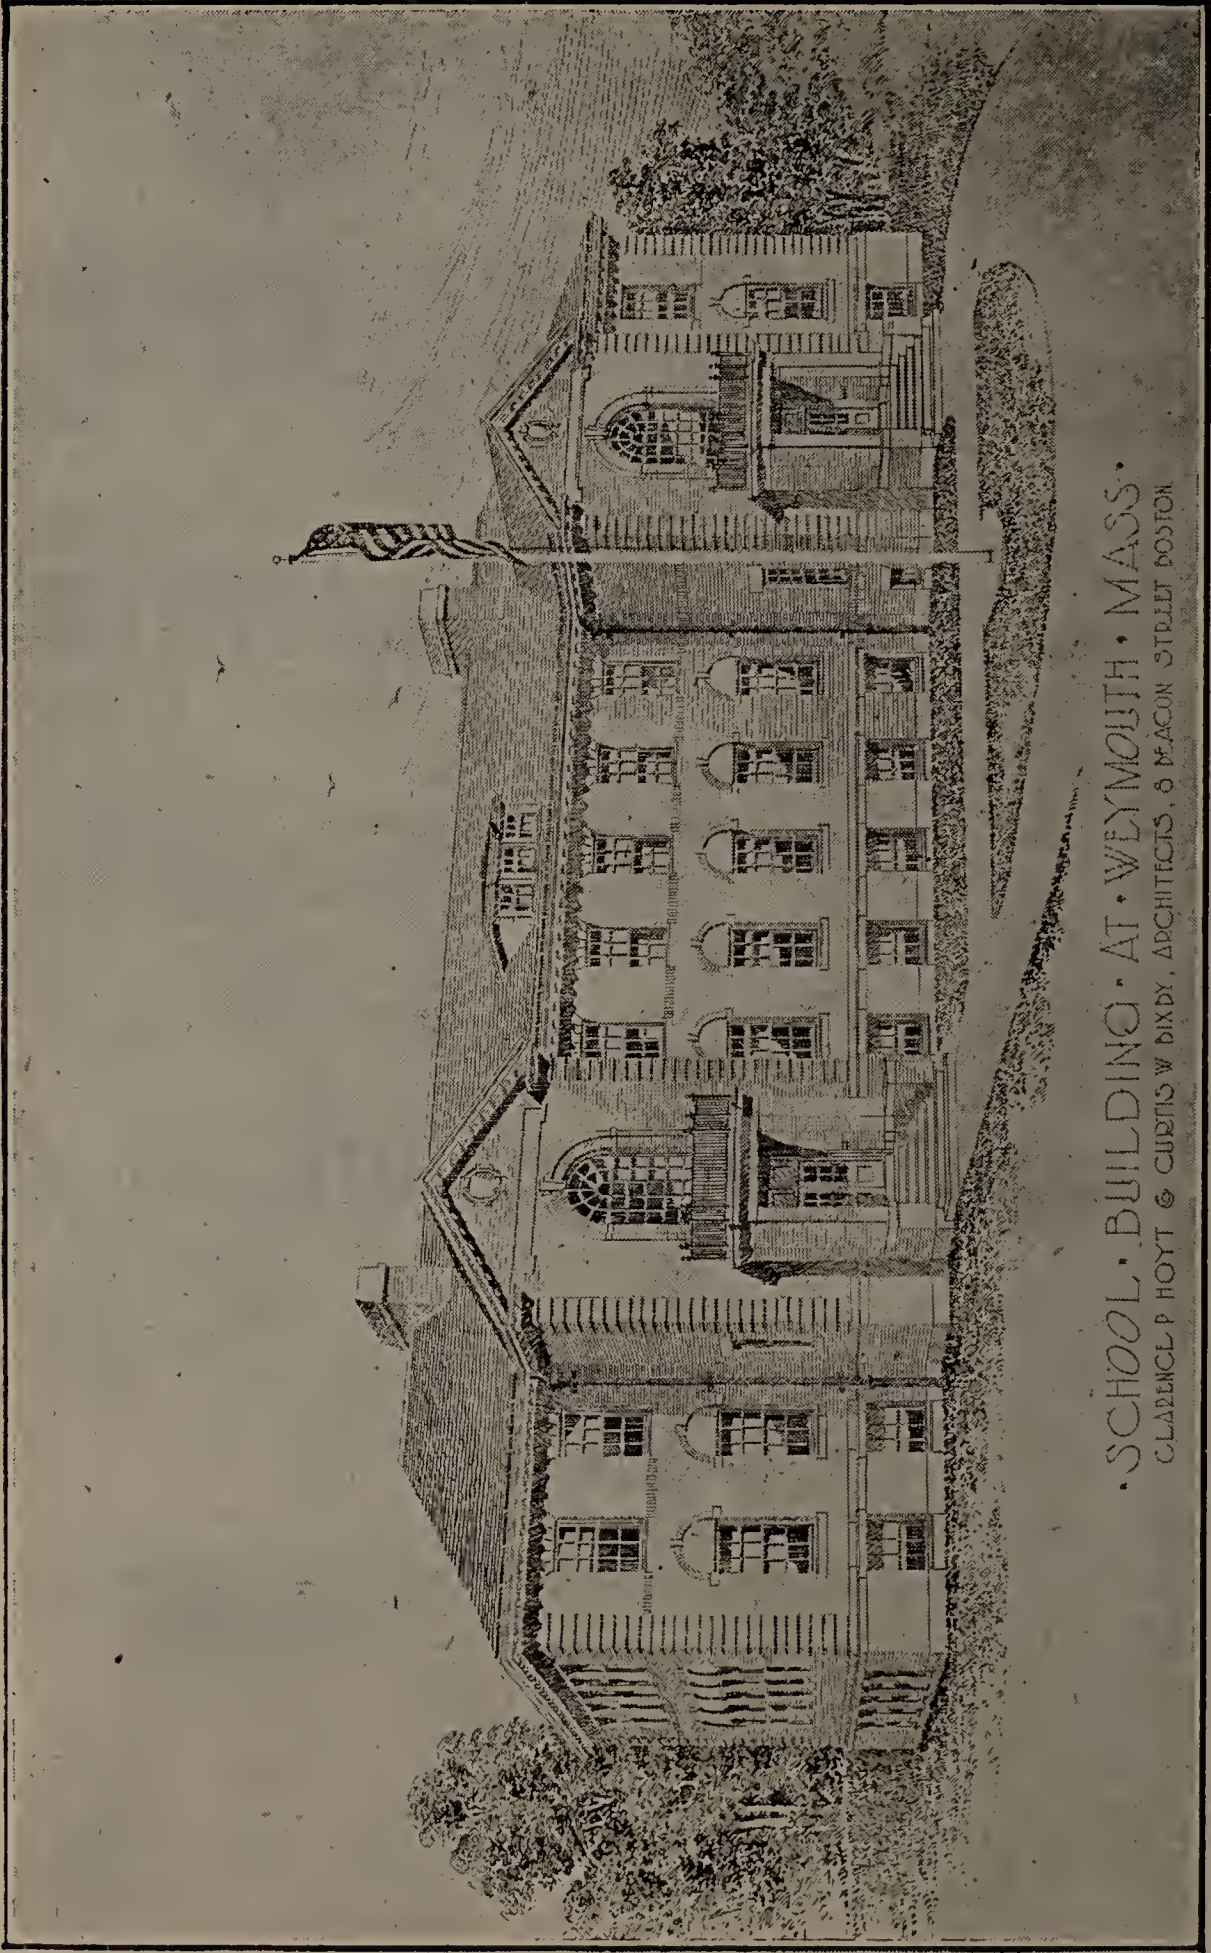

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

of the

Town of Weymouth, Mass.

1918

THE CRAWFORD PRESS SOUTH WEYMOUTH, MASS.

SCHOOL BUILDING AT WEYMOUTH MASS.
CLARENCE P. HOYT & CURTIS W. DIXBY, ARCHITECTS, 6 BEACON STREET BOSTON

NEW HUNT SCHOOL, WEYMOUTH

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

To the Citizens of Weymouth:

Never before in recent memory have so many difficulties at one time beset the administration of our schools. In this, Weymouth is not unique.

The high prices affecting all commodities have been met by the town with liberal appropriations, cheerfully given, and by your committee, especially during the past year, in the limiting of purchases to the most pressing necessities.

The absolute scarcity of coal has caused much anxiety, and while the schools have been kept open with but little loss of time on this account alone, positive discomfort has been narrowly averted. The coal supply for the coming year will probably be ample, although prices will not fall to the old levels.

The time lost by reason of the prevalent sicknesses, affecting both teachers and scholars, can be, and it is expected, will be made up by earnest effort during the remaining months.

The fine spirit that has been shown by the many women who have served as substitute teachers is worthy of the highest commendation; and at this time it is fitting that equal tribute be paid to the loyalty of the regular teaching force, who have, in many instances, kept to their daily work of teaching, when much more lucrative employment has been open to them elsewhere.

At present, the transportation of pupils, chiefly to the High School from Wards 4 and 5, is far from satisfactory. Before the discontinuance of the trolley lines the fares had been so advanced by the adoption of the zone system that the amount of money counted on to cover such expense for the school year, would be, under the new rates, greatly insufficient.

The motor service hitherto substituted for the cars which were lost has been expensive, but if such service should be continued, a better form of omnibus would undoubtedly be used.

At writing, the operation of the trolley cars on the two discontinued lines has been resumed, and a schedule of fares adopted which is no lower than before. Under half rates, it will cost fifteen cents a day, or more, to carry a South Weymouth pupil to and from the High School. Less than two years ago this cost was five cents a day. Besides this, there is pending in the United States Court a petition seeking to take away the right of half fares from scholars. If this petition should prevail, the transportation of High School pupils from South Weymouth alone would cost more than $5000 in a school year, and there would be an equal amount needed for transportation furnished elsewhere in the town.

There can be no question that under such circumstances it would be very much cheaper for the town to provide its own equipment for school transportation, of liberal capacity and of enduring quality.

The amount estimated by your committee for transportation for the coming year, $5000, seems to be the smallest amount that can possibly serve, under existing conditions; and if such amount is to be depended on, the art of walking or cycling may need to be to a large extent exercised.

Your committee makes no request for motor equipment, although it is used successfully in certain towns of the Commonwealth. An inferior equipment, which might serve the High School and a portion of the grades would cost, for three cars, a sum near $4000; and a better equipment could be procured for $6000. Motor equipment to cover transportation for the pupils throughout the town would need a capital investment of at least $10,000.

There is good reason to believe that the maintenance and operative costs of such comprehensive equipment need not exceed $5000, and would be, not counting interest and depreciation, much less than such amount.

The school buildings are generally in good repair, but this does not mean an acquiescence in the existing sanitary arrangements in some schools; and especially in the High and Shaw schools present conditions demand immediate remedy.

Certain other betterments would be desirable, and will be made whenever favorable prices and sufficient funds concur. In the estimate provision has been made for sanitary changes at the High and Shaw schools.

A year ago the congestion at the Athens school was noted in your committee's report. Conditions are now worse. Twelve class rooms are in operation in this eleven-room building, and most of these class rooms are greatly overcrowded. This building now houses at least one hundred more pupils than properly should attend, although it is only a few years since the four-room addition was placed thereon.

Further addition to the Athens structure is out of the question. The existing school house lot is not large enough to contain a second building. Some action should be taken at the next town meeting toward securing an additional school house location in North Weymouth. A location below Bicknell Square would be near the new growth, and as there is much vacant land in this vicinity, a reasonable opportunity to secure such a location might be expected.

The need for the additional housing is present, and it is for the town meeting to determine whether, and in what manner, this need shall be supplied. It is to be hoped that the citizens of North Weymouth will in this behalf exercise their rightful and proper initiative.

In the summary of expenses for the past, and estimates for the current year, which follows, the item of fuel should be noted. The amount expended in 1917, $4,848.52, was not relatively small because coal was cheap, but because only a portion of the coal used in the year 1917 was purchased with the funds of that year. During 1918 not only nearly all the fuel used was purchased during the year, but also a considerable future supply sufficient to carry most of the school buildings through the early months of 1919, until the advent of warm weather.

In normal times it has been the practice, as it has been profitable, to lay in a year's supply of coal during the summer months. During the past year of especially high prices it has been necessary to buy coal whenever any coal was in sight. The best information now is that coal will be somewhat cheaper before many months.

The estimate for janitors is based upon the actual payroll today; that for instructors upon the present payroll, adopted immediately after the vote in town meeting last year, plus increases in similar proportion in cases where increases are to be expected, and the ordinary maximum rates have not been attained. There are now 82 instructors on the payroll of the town.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

Members of the School Committee:

I herewith submit my tenth annual report, the same being the thirty-third in the series of annual reports of the superintendents of this town.

As nearly ten years have passed since I took charge of the schools in Weymouth, it may be of interest to make a statement of present conditions together with a brief summary of the changes and improvements that have occurred.

The public schools of Weymouth are educating over twenty-seven hundred children, approximately one-fifth of the population of the town. Three hundred and fifty-seven are enrolled in the High School and two thousand three hundred and forty-eight in the elementary grades.

ORGANIZATION.

The schools are organized on the basis of thirteen grades, nine in the elementary schools and four in the High School. According to the last State report, of the two hundred eighteen cities and towns maintaining high schools, seventy-seven have a thirteen grade system and one hundred and forty-one have a twelve grade system. Of the forty-four towns and cities in the State having from two hundred to five hundred pupils in their high schools, twenty-six have a system organized on a thirteen year basis and eighteen have a system organized on a twelve year basis.

ENTRANCE AGE.

The entrance age for pupils of the first grade is slightly under five years. Any child who becomes five before the first of November may enter during the first two weeks of school. Only ten of the cities and towns maintaining a complete school system have as low an entrance age as Weymouth and only four of the twenty-six cities and towns with systems organized like our own, have as low an entrance age.

BUILDINGS.

There are fifteen school buildings, five of brick of modern construction and housing over two-thirds of the pupils; and ten small wooden buildings representing, with the exception of two four-room buildings, the oldest construction in the town.

The buildings fall naturally into groups according to the period in which they were built. The Adams, the Lincoln, and the Bicknell, which is no longer used for school purposes, were evidently built in the '60's, although I have been able to find no record to that effect. They are of the same general type and are excellent examples of two-room buildings. The rooms are large, airy, and have plenty of light.

The Hunt and the Franklin, built in '71 and '78 respectively, are of a more ornate type, well built but poorly designed. The rooms are too high, the windows few in number and small, the entrances obstructed by the arrangement of the coat-rooms and stair partitions. These buildings cost much money at the time they were built, and evidently were intended to be good examples of school architecture.

The Washington and Jefferson built in '87 and '89 are splendid types of what a building should be, with the single exception that they have no modern toilet arrangements.

During the four-year period extending from 1898 through 1902, three buildings were erected, the High School in 1898, the Shaw in 1900 and the Athens in 1902. These were all designed by the same architect and show a similarity of type. The High School and the Athens are of brick, the former having granite and the latter sandstone trimmings; the Shaw school is of wood. These buildings are in excellent physical condition. They have served the town well and will continue to do so for many years to come. They were all equipped with the cremation system for toilets, a system which was considered excellent at the time, but which has proved cumbersome and impracticable. In the Athens school modern toilets have been installed. The same change should be made in the other two buildings as soon as possible. The Athens school, originally a seven-room building, was enlarged in 1913 by the addition of two new wings, making it an eleven-room building.

In 1906 and 1907 two more buildings were erected, the Humphrey, a brick structure of eight rooms and the Pratt school, a wooden building of four rooms. The former is of excellent design and construction, but the latter, although of good design is poorly constructed and will always be a source of expense to the town.

Ten years later the New Hunt, an eight-room building, was completed, in 1916, and the Edward B. Nevin, a ten-room building, in 1918. These buildings naturally represent the best that can be offered in the way of comfort and convenience, considering the amount of money spent on them. In comparison with the other buildings of the town the corridors and basements are particularly light and free from dark holes and corners.

A cut of the New Hunt and a cut and the floor-plans of the Edward B. Nevin are shown in this report.

The building of the past has been to a large degree the replacement of antiquated structures with such provision for additional accommodations as a moderate increase in the school population in the various parts of the town has demanded. The building of the future of which there is immediate need will be for additional accommodations.

The High School is crowded. The hall, the basement and even the corridor used for the storage of chemicals and minerals have been requisitioned for recitation purposes.

In the Athens school five hundred eighteen pupils are enrolled, twenty-five per cent. more than can be safely accommodated in the building. If dissatisfaction arises either regarding the discipline or quality of work accomplished, the principal and teachers should not be held responsible, as it is physically impossible to do standard work under the existing conditions. Steps should be taken immediately to provide a separate building for the primary grades.

CHANGES AND IMPROVEMENTS.

During the last ten years the curriculum has been greatly enriched. Sewing has been introduced for the girls of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, and dressmaking for the girls in the High School. Manual training has been given to the boys of the corresponding grades, and a complete equipment of benches and tools has been purchased for all parts of the town. A special teacher has been employed to supervise home-gardens and to enlist the interest of the pupils in home economics, canning, and pig clubs. An agricultural department has been started in the High School, which offers at present a three-year course to students desiring to take up that line of work. Next year there will be a four-year course. Millinery has been taught for two years to the girls in the High School. The work of the business department has been greatly strengthened. Music has become a strong feature of the school work, particularly in the High School.

Medical inspection has been introduced, seven physicians being employed to visit the schools at weekly intervals.

With the exception of a few rooms in East Weymouth, all the buildings are now equipped with adjustable furniture.

UNFAVORABLE CONDITIONS.

Many difficulties of an unusual character have arisen during the past year. The intense cold of January and February caused a postponement of the opening of the schools for two weeks at the beginning of the year and occasioned considerable damage by the freezing of pipes and fire extinguishers. The shortage of coal through the winter and spring made it a question of extreme doubt whether the schools would be able to run from week to week. The epidemic of influenza, beginning in September, caused a loss of nearly four weeks of schooling for the children and has made it difficult to continue the schools since the reopening, owing to illness among both pupils and teachers. On the average, ten per cent. of the teachers have been absent from their duties since the beginning of the epidemic.

The discontinuance of the two car lines to South Weymouth made it extremely difficult to get the pupils from that part of the town to the High School. It was necessary to provide transportation for ninety pupils on a twenty-four hour notice, and, as can well be imagined, considerable discomfort and inconvenience resulted.

TEACHERS.

Fourteen vacancies occurred in the teaching force during the year. Five teachers resigned to be married, one to enter the army, one retired under the provisions of the Teachers' Retirement Act, six resigned to accept other positions, one death occurred. Miss Nettie Mahoney, a graduate of our own schools and a recent graduate of Bridgewater Normal, died of influenza after a few days' illness. Miss Mahoney was a promising young teacher. Her death seemed particularly untimely as she had taught less than four weeks after making many sacrifices to obtain her education.

There is a general shortage of teachers throughout the country with very little prospect of the condition being relieved immediately. Many teachers have left the service for other lines of employment offering greater inducements. Many of the recent graduates of the colleges and normal schools who trained for teaching have not even entered the profession, but have secured clerical or other positions. The source of supply is also endangered according to the Report of the Commissioner of Education, from which I quote the following: "The enrollment of our State Normal schools for the school year 1917-1918 has not only failed to show its usual growth, but has actually decreased more than 14 per cent. over that of the preceding year. Should this rate of decrease in normal school attendance continue for even a year or two, it is evident that the number of boys and girls in Massachusetts taught by untrained teachers would be increased by thousands."

The situation is becoming so serious that the question of what you can pay is being overshadowed by the question as to whether you can get a trained teacher at all.

HIGH SCHOOL.

REPORT OF MR. F. W. HILTON, PRINCIPAL.

In reviewing the last school year, we find many conditions which have tended to add difficulties in carrying out our usual program. The high wages offered in government positions have made it practically impossible to procure new teachers and enough of the students have been attracted by the lure of money to make our enrollment noticeably less. The usual supply of coal was replaced largely by wood during the months of January and February of 1918 and many of the school boys will long remember the experience they had in carrying cordwood from one portion of the basement to another in our endeavor to use this substitute fuel. Organizations for war work have thrived and student activity along these lines has often been so great that it has caused a tendency to neglect the usual school routine.

Taking these things into consideration with the necessary closing of the schools because of the epidemic of influenza, it is easy to see how difficult it is to keep up to our usual standard, both as to quantity and quality of work accomplished. Our record of lessons completed for the school year of 1917-1918 was about the same as usual and I trust that we shall be able to accomplish as much before the end of this school year, although we are at present considerably behind. I feel like commending both the students and the teachers for their helpful attitude in meeting these difficulties as they have arisen.

It might not be out of place at this time to express our appreciation for the long and faithful service rendered by

Mrs. Helen Curtis Barnard and Mrs. Irene Fraser Bates. Miss Grace L. Woodward, of the commercial department, resigned soon after the beginning of the fall term to accept a position at Natick. Mr. Andrew N. Schwab, from the County Agricultural School, replaced Mr. Kemp in the agricultural department.

A few changes have been made in the curriculum which we hope will meet with appreciation. The two-year course in Spanish is to replace the two-year course in German. Stenography has been introduced in the second year to allow this subject three years instead of two. We hope that this change will allow us to complete the principles of stenography early in the senior year, and allow ample opportunity for speed drills, which have suffered more or less for lack of time.

We are looking forward with hope for a normal year, free from the stress of war and the interruption of epidemics.

MANUAL TRAINING.

REPORT OF MISS ALICE L. TUCKER, SUPERVISOR OF MANUAL TRAINING.

The work was given to the boys of the three upper grammar grades in all of the schools except the Pratt. There it began in the sixth grade with chair caning.

While waiting for the new building to be finished, the seventh grade at the Nevins had caning and seated twenty-two chairs.

In all three grades each boy learned to make and read the plans which he used in his bench work. In the seventh grade particular attention was given to the correct use of the different tools and the fundamental principles of woodworking in making simple and useful articles, and the boy became familiar with several different woods.

The eighth grade worked for greater accuracy and speed and made more difficult models.

The ninth grade learned simple joinery, including half lap, mitre, dowel, and mortise and tenon joints. In this grade the boys are allowed much freedom in their choice of articles and most of them made furniture, such as tabourets, medicine cabinets, telephone stands, library tables, sewing screens, music cabinets, magazine racks, book cases, and umbrella racks as well as picture and diploma frames.

At the James Humphrey school the boys made a costumer for the principal's office and a saw horse for the manual training room.

The fine spirit and keen interest of the boys make it possible to accomplish nearly double the work which could be done in the allotted time.

HOME PROJECTS.

REPORT OF MISS SARAH E. BRASSIL, SPECIAL TEACHER OF GARDENING.

It seemed best, under prevailing conditions, to make every effort to keep the work practical, timely and profitable. Pupils were encouraged to believe in the value of their time and skill and to feel the dignity and importance of their contribution to the general need. As a result, they have grown gardens, raised pigs and poultry, canned fruit and vegetables, and made war bread.

All pupils in grades seven, eight and nine receive instruction in gardening. Calls for help and advice from lower grades have been responded to as far as possible. There were five hundred home gardens of varying size reported. In visiting these it was frequently found that younger members of the family were understudying the older ones. Those unable to have a plot of land for themselves were helping in the family garden. Many of our older grammar grade boys are successful workers on nearby truck gardens.

When a pupil has a garden of one twentieth acre or more and is willing to keep business accounts and meet certain other simple requirements, he is listed as a member of the Massachusetts Agricultural College Junior Extension Course and reports to the college through the county leader. There have been eleven such "club gardens," so called.

There were two hundred ten members listed in the Home Economics Clubs. Their work is designed to teach the indoors side of farm life. Bread-making and household tasks are included here. In this club we turned for help to our teacher of sewing and to the teacher of domestic science in the High School. To them is due its popularity and success.

Fifty-eight girls and two boys were grouped in the seven canning clubs. They report two thousand quarts of canned goods at an approximate value of $750. They have also the proud record of winning five banners for perfect membership and for completing all club requirements.

The poultry clubs were smaller, only nine boys entering. Two of the nine were invited to go to the Worcester County Fair to represent Norfolk County in a judging contest.

There were one hundred fourteen pigs raised by pig club members. Accounts show an average profit of $12.50. These pigs dressed from one hundred ten to two hundred sixteen pounds, and represent food to the amount of about eight tons, worth, at market value, something over $4000.

This club work is voluntary and optional. It is done largely out of school hours but is supervised by the director and fostered by the teachers. Plans and requirements are sent out from Massachusetts Agricultural College in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

At the Weymouth Fair the children's exhibit filled a large tent and included garden produce, canning and cooking. Later, a pig club show was held, for which the association furnished the accommodations and the State Board of Agriculture allowed us one hundred dollars. Also, when the State Agent was working up an educational "movie film" he selected a member of a Weymouth club to pose for the reels. This film is now ready and will be used throughout New England, perhaps elsewhere, incidentally advertising Weymouth.

It has been a busy year; active children, approving public, and co-operating teachers have shared in the work and may claim a share in any success that has come.

SEWING.

REPORT OF MISS HELEN ROWELL, SUPERVISOR OF SEWING.

At the beginning of the school year the seventh grades have their first experience in sewing, and the eighth and ninth grades commence the second year of the work.

The aim of the sewing in the seventh grades is to teach plain hand sewing so that the pupils will have a general knowledge of the various stitches most commonly used, the use of each, and the application in the making of simple articles for personal and home use. The articles made are sewing bags, pin, needle, and scissors cases, dish-towels, pillow-cases, and sewing or kitchen aprons.

The eighth grades aim for perfection in hand sewing by continual use of former stitches and application of new, and the use of the sewing machine is also introduced. The repair of clothing is encouraged by pupils bringing clothing from home and the various methods of mending and repairing being taught by actual work upon their own materials. By combining hand and machine work the girls make laundry bags, chemises, nightgowns, aprons, pillow cases, and bloomers.

The ninth grade work is practically the same as the eighth grade this year owing to the fact that both grades have had the same sewing experience. However, the ninth grade is capable of doing a little more advanced work.

To give the girls a better understanding of the materials with which they will come in contact as they have more experience in buying and using cloth, a brief study of textiles has been started. The history, growth, manufacture, qualities, use, and approximate prices of different textiles is considered and actual experience in selection and buying of goods is encouraged.

Along with the sewing the girls have made models and samples of the different stitches, seams, plackets, facings, etc., to be kept by them for reference and use outside of school.

This year, owing to the great demand for helpers in all war work, one lesson each month is devoted to Red Cross sewing, and the girls have done splendid work. Thus far they have made over one hundred property bags for soldiers, and as various kinds of work are required they will be prepared to do their part.

AGRICULTURE.

REPORT BY MR. ANDREW N. SCHWAB, SUPERVISOR OF AGRICULTURE.

The agricultural department of the Norfolk County Agricultural School located at the Weymouth High School opened the fall term of its third year with twelve students enrolled among the three lower classes as follows: Three juniors, six sophomores, three freshmen.

All of the students are carrying on one or more agricultural projects as required by the State Board of Education. The projects line up as follows: Nine garden, seven poultry, one pig, one dairy.

The four-year course of study as outlined:

First year.—Kitchen gardening; agricultural survey.

Second year.—Poultry husbandry; dairy husbandry; small fruits.

Third year.—Market gardening; feeds and feeding; swine husbandry; soil fertility.

Fourth year.—Dairy husbandry II; poultry husbandry II; orcharding; an. husbandry.

With the present schedule each class has three periods of agriculture each day, one of which is a study period. It is the hope of the instructor that the enrollment by another year will be large enough to warrant an assistant, for with four classes to teach, one instructor would find it difficult to give the required amount of work to each class with the best degree of efficiency.

DRAWING.

REPORT BY MISS EVELYN SILVESTER, SUPERVISOR OF DRAWING.

The drawing work in the grades of your schools has been under my direction such a short period that a very complete report at this time is impossible. When I came, the last of October, 1918, I found that the drawing work was decidedly below grade, due, of course, to the fact that there was no regular course of study last year. That trouble is now being gradually remedied by detailed outlines of work, which, the teachers are carefully following.

Already there is a noticeable improvement in the pupils' work, and we hope by co-operation to raise the standard throughout the schools so that by the end of the year all will be regained that was lost last year.

From the above table it appears that the pupils of the town have made a fairly good showing with their deposits despite the fact that there have been many other calls upon them for money. In only one other year (1917) has the deposit been larger. In addition to the savings shown above, the pupils have purchased over fourteen thousand dollars worth of thrift stamps, they have contributed two thousand three hundred and forty-six dollars in cash and pledges to the United War Work Campaign, and have made a one hundred per cent. contribution to the Red Cross. They have also done a large amount of sewing and made many bandages for the various relief associations. At no time during the year has there been a call for money or service without a prompt response on the part of the pupils and teachers.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the committee, the teachers and the community for their cordial support through the year.

Respectfully submitted,

PARKER T. PEARSON,

Superintendent of Schools.

CLASS ODE

Words by Marion Frances Procter

The years have passed on fleeting wings,
 And as we meet today,
 The joys and sorrows memory brings
 Recall the toilsome way.
 But friendships deep within the heart,
 The ties that bind us here,
 Give us strength and hope as the time to part
 Is swiftly drawing near.

The doors of life stand open wide;
 The sun shines o'er our way;
 We'll ever in the right abide,
 In whate'er we do or say.
 With truth as our motto, service our aim,
 We'll banish wrong and strife,
 And fight with strength against sin and shame
 And all that dishonors life.

Today we read in these fragrant flowers
 God's message of love so dear;
 He guards us in these sad, sweet hours,
 And we feel Him ever near.
 And as our ways in life now part,
 We ask His blessing on all.
 May He give us strength and guide our hearts
 As we answer Duty's call.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE IN CHARGE OF THE
CONSTRUCTION OF THE EDWARD B. NEVIN

To the Citizens of Weymouth:

By vote of this committee on February 22, 1918, the Edward B. Nevin school house was accepted from the builders, John F. Griffin Co., as of February 18, 1918, although the building had for sometime prior thereto been occupied as a school house.

A considerable amount of filling and grading remains to be done in and about the school premises, and the construction account is therefore kept open for another year in order that such work may be attended to. The small net balance on hand will be increased by the sale of certain old materials and other goods still unsold. At present, there are no outstanding bills.

REPORT OF THE SELECTMEN.

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Weymouth:

With the more or less exhaustive reports which are now supplied by all of the principal departments of the town government, it seems a useless repetition for the report of the Selectmen to treat of subjects which are thus otherwise reported. We will therefore confine ourselves to a few matters which will not be treated of elsewhere.

The beginning of the year 1918 found our country straining every nerve in raising and equipping our immense army to cross the sea and participate in the great world war which was being waged on the battlefields of Europe. The enrolling of an army and navy mounting into the millions, the furnishing of the required armament, equipment and supplies, together with the necessity of sending vast amounts of provisions and military supplies to the nations with which we were co-operating had revolutionized all the manufacturing, agricultural and transportation facilities of the country. The paramount purpose of the Government was to place in Europe at the earliest possible moment an army of millions of men, with all the necessary paraphernalia of war required to make that army an important, if not a decisive, factor in bringing the war to a successful close.

The best military authorities of England and France did not deem it possible for the allied armies to start an offensive campaign with promise of a successful issue before the summer of 1919. Contrary to all expectations this country was able to and did by the first of July, place nearly two million men in the fields of France, equipped and trained for immediate service. This fact determined the Allied High Command to adopt an offensive campaign with good prospect of forcing a military decision before the winter set in. The result of this campaign was successful beyond the most sanguine expectation.

Turkey, Bulgaria and Austria, one after another, were compelled to lay down their arms, and Germany, left alone, was obliged to sue for an armistice, which was granted, and was signed on the eleventh day of November. By the terms of this armistice the defeat of the German army and navy was practically acknowledged.

The world now awaits with intense interest the action of the peace conference now convening, which, it is confidently expected, will result in a definite settlement of peace terms, for which the world devoutly prays. Since a state of war between this country and Germany was declared in April, 1917, this town has furnished men for our army and navy to the number of seven hundred and thirty, many of whom have had an important part in the operations which resulted in the triumph of the allied arms. Some of these have already returned to their homes, while many are still in France, or in the Army of Occupation in Germany, while many more are awaiting their discharge in the various camps in this country.

We have endeavored to secure a full list of the men who entered the military and naval service of the United States from Weymouth. We are indebted to a large extent to Miss Edith Bicknell for her service, almost from the time our country entered the war, in obtaining the data for this list.

We also asked for volunteers from among the scholars of the High School to co-operate with Miss Bicknell by making a house to house canvass in the hope of making the list complete and accurate. A number of the young ladies of the school volunteered for this work, with the result that we are enabled to publish a list which we trust is nearly if not entirely complete and accurate.

Notwithstanding the most painstaking effort, it will not be surprising if it is found that there are a few names which should be included in the list which have not yet been obtained. Should any readers of these pages discover any errors or omissions we should esteem it a favor if they will forward such names to this Board or to the Town Clerk, that the town records of those who served their country in this greatest of all wars may be complete and accurate.

The list contains 733 names, as follows:

It is lamentable but inevitable that in the prosecution of a war of the magnitude of that in which we have been engaged, that there should be a long casualty list.

All of our young men who have gone out from us to the war, went with the full realization that they might be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice for the betterment of the world, and they accepted that condition with a cheerful courage. Some of them will return to us no more. We lament their loss, but we have the consolation that they laid down their lives in defence of the most righteous cause for which war was ever waged on our earth, and we would pay this feeble tribute to those we could ill afford to lose. We quote reverently from Lincoln's Gettysburg address, paraphrasing to suit the world conditions: "From these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that the world, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Woman's Work in the War.

While recording the names of those who have served in the military or naval service of our country, we feel that special recognition is also due to the great number of patriotic women of our town who have by their devoted efforts to ease the conditions of our men in camp and field and on the sea, rendered conspicuous assistance in bringing the war to a successful close.

When the history of the war is written, it will be incomplete without emphasizing the great work accomplished by the women of our land through the Red Cross and Special Aid Societies. The vast amount of work these women accomplished by knitting garments for the comfort of the soldiers and sailors, in preparing surgical dressings for the wounded and in various other labors connected with the successful prosecution of the war entitle them to our most cordial thanks. It is not possible here to give the names of all of these devoted women: their greatest reward must be in the consciousness of a great duty nobly done.

Suits at Law.

No new suits against the town have been brought during the year.

The petition of Louis A. Cook for assessment of damages for taking of land to widen Pleasant Street has been settled with his estate.

The only cases now pending are that of Herbert A. Billings for damages alleged to have been occasioned by blasting in the repair of Front Street and that of Johanna Burke to recover damages for personal injury claimed to have been sustained in consequence of an alleged defect on Neck Street.

Bay State Street Railway Company.

The Bay State Street Railway Company has given the Board more or less concern throughout the year, in an endeavor to see that the Town did not fare any worse, at least, than other communities similarly situated.

On July 11, 1918, the Public Service Commission decided rate cases of the Bay State Street Railway Company (P. S. C. 1858, 1953, 2095), so far as they affected Weymouth, on the following basis:

The country lines, outside of the city zones, were arranged on a mileage basis, with a varying rate, dependent upon traffic density, of 2 cents, 2½ cents and 3 cents per mile.

On a number of routes, workingmen's tickets are sold at about 70 per cent of the regular rate.

On December 12, 1918, the Commission made a finding on a proposed tariff of the company (P. S. C. 2300), which eliminated all tickets, including the workingmen's tickets, establishing city zones substantially equivalent to the previous inner and outer zones combined, with a uniform fare of 10 cents, dividing the country lines into zones, about 2 miles in length, with a minimum fare of 10 cents, good for 2 zones, and 5 cents for each zone thereafter.

In deciding this case, the Commission allowed the company's schedule to combine the inner and outer zones on the city lines into one area, charging a 7-cent fare by the sale of 5 tickets for 35 cents, with a 10-cent fare if the fare is paid in cash.

On the country lines the Commission allowed the company's schedule, except that on such lines which the company proposed to continue operation the 10-cent minimum rate was disallowed, and the company was given the option of making the minimum rate 5 cents or follow the same plan outlined for the cities, by selling tickets good for a single zone ride at the rate of 5 for 35 cents.

Workingmen's tickets between certain points were authorized to be sold at a rate not higher than 70 per cent of the regular cash fare.

The lawfulness of the findings of the Commission has been carried to the Supreme Judicial Court by the Receiver.

Since December 12, 1917, the company has been in the hands of a receiver appointed by the Federal Court. On November 18, 1918, the Receiver filed in the Federal Court a petition for permission to discontinue service upon a substantial portion of the railway on account of failure to earn operating expenses. There was scarcely any section of the territory served by the Bay State which did not contain lines included in this petition. The result was a general protest by substantially all the municipalities affected, and a uniting of effort in urging that the system as a whole should be kept in operation or that reorganization of the company should take place under the provisions of a special act passed by the Legislature of 1918 (Chap. 188), which provided, among other things, for the rehabilitation and continued operation of all its lines by the guarantee of the Commonwealth of the bonds of the new company to the extent of $4,000,000. In return for this extension of State credit, full control over management and operation was to be placed in the hands of five trustees, to be appointed by the Governor, for the period of ten years and that the fares should be established by the trustees and automatically regulated from time to time upon the so-called "Service at Cost" plan.

The hearings in the Federal Court on the Receiver's petition resulted in the Court refusing to approve of discontinuance at present of any lines, simply because they did not earn operating expenses.

In November the Receiver gave notice that service would be discontinued on Pleasant Street between Jackson Square and Columbian Square on December 1st, and on the Main-Front Street line between Columbian Square and Lincoln Square on December 15th, both upon the grounds that operation on these lines was unsafe.

As the result of conferences the Receiver did not discontinue service on Pleasant Street on December 1st as he proposed, but agreed to continue same from day to day, weather permitting, until December 15th. The Receiver offered to continue service indefinitely on these lines providing the Town would raise and appropriate $13,500 for the purpose of putting the tracks in a safe condition; $2000 was to be expended on Pleasant Street and $11,500, less the cost of a certain quantity of rails estimated at about $3000, was for the improvement of the track on Main and Front Streets.

The Legislature of 1918 having provided (by Chap. 288), that towns and cities might contribute to the cost of operation and fixed charges within such town or city of any line or lines of a street railway company, a special town meeting was called to consider the situation, with the result that no money was appropriated for the above purpose, and on December 15th service was discontinued on both lines in accordance with the earlier notice by the Receiver.

All the lines in Weymouth except that from East Weymouth to Quincy via Thomas' Corner, were included in the Receiver's proposal to discontinue because their operation did not pay expenses.

We are satisfied the people of the Town want street railway service and much better service, too, than they have been receiving in the immediate past. It seems doubtful, however, if this can be had if the entire expense is to be borne by the car rider. There appears to be a limit to what the people will stand in the way of fares. When these are too high they tend to discourage riding and it has been found in practice that the net revenue received by the company as a result of increased fares is in no way commensurate with the amount of the increase. As long as conditions relating to cost of operation remain as at present, some method of public support, aside from the contribution of the rider in the form of fares, appears inevitable.

The above is the street railway situation at the close of the year. We still have strong hopes that a way will be devised whereby passenger traffic will be resumed on the discontinued lines in the near future.

REPORT OF THE OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Weymouth:

Town Farm.

In the absence of any instructions from the town as to what should be done with the farm for the year, the Board considered that the wisest course would be to have it run practically as it had been of late years. We accordingly contracted with James W. Eldridge to remain as superintendent of the farm and he to hire all needed help, for eighteen hundred dollars.

Owing to the peculiarly difficult labor conditions existing through the year Mr. Eldridge had great difficulty in securing and keeping the necessary help, but by hard labor on his own part the operations of the farm were conducted about on the usual scale, except that no effort was made to keep up the herd to the number of previous years.

On September thirtieth Mr. Eldridge tendered his resignation, to accept a position at the Town Home and Farm of Milton. The resignation was accepted with the condition that he was to remain to complete the harvesting and marketing of the crops, to which he readily acceded. Mr. Eldridge was advised to dispose of the live stock with the exception of two horses, which he did.

Arrangement was made with Mr. Parker Condrick to act as care taker through the winter and to attend to the wood deliveries. As the stock of wood was running low and it was difficult to procure any considerable quantity in town, we purchased seventy-five cords of Mr. Percy Dwelley, in North Hanover, which in our opinion will be an adequate supply for a year.

Inmates.

We contracted with the Overseers of the Poor of Braintree to board our inmates at their institution for five dollars a week each until the first of December. From December first to April first, 1919, we shall have to pay seven dollars a week. This does not include clothing and bedding.

We cannot urge too strongly that definite action be taken at the next annual meeting of the town for rebuilding the Town Home.

The number of inmates boarded in the Braintree Home for the whole or part of the year was twenty-one, of whom sixteen were males and five were females.

The ages were as follows:

Between 50 and 60	4
Between 60 and 70	5
Between 70 and 80	7
Over 80	5

Only one death has occurred among the inmates during the year, it being that of a male seventy years of age.

One of the present inmates is a man, who, if he lives to the eighteenth day of February next will have attained the age of one hundred years. This man is in a fair degree of health and in full possession of his faculties.

The cost of the inmates, including clothing, etc., was $4,794.31.

We have supported in city and state hospitals for longer or shorter periods, fourteen patients, and have aided of the town's poor in homes, in this town and in other towns and cities one hundred and seventy-eight individuals in seventy-five families of one or more at a cost of $12,013.55.

We have also aided, of those resident in this town but having no settlement here, fifty-three individuals, in thirteen families of one or more, at a cost of $2,570.93.

The number aided out of the house shows a decrease of eighty from the preceding year, but no corresponding decrease in the cost; in fact, the per capita cost was about eight per cent in excess of the previous year, which is readily accounted for by the increased price of most of the commodities which enter into living expenses.

TOWN PHYSICIANS.

The town physicians appointed to attend the poor are: for Ward One and the Braintree Home, Dr. William A. Drake; for Ward Two, Dr. John C. Fraser; for Ward Three, Dr. Rudolph Jacoby; for Ward Four, Dr. Karl H. Granger; for Ward Five, Dr. George E. Emerson.

Chairman Board of Selectmen of Weymouth.

Trustee of Fore River Bridge.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS
FOR YEAR ENDING DEC. 31, 1918.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

The following report of the Street Department for the year ending December 31, 1918, is submitted for your consideration.

The war has greatly affected the operations of this department and caused work to be curtailed in many ways. At the time of making the financial budget it was agreed, with the appropriation committee, that only work that was absolutely necessary should be done and that our endeavor would be largely to maintain our present streets in as good condition as possible. This plan was carried out and while the general conditions of our streets were not as good as the preceding year, the opinion of the travelling public seems to be that Weymouth's streets were in better shape than those of many towns in this vicinity.

Work of maintenance and street oiling was restricted by the regulations of the United States Fuel Administration regarding the use of bituminous binders such as tar and oil for road work. The government required an application, approved by the Massachusetts Highway Commission, stating the length and width of each street and the amount of bitumen desired for a square yard. They would then only approve applications that called for main through roads or roads of military importance. Had it not been for the fact that we had considerable of our side streets treated and several cars of Tarvia in transit before this ruling went into effect, it would have been impossible to have treated more than half the usual amount of streets; as it turned out we were able to oil nearly as many streets as the previous year and those not done were the least important. The fact that the department had its own motor oil distributor was greatly instrumental in getting as much of this work done before government restrictions went into effect. It was also difficult to obtain bitumen for patching work and the result was that this work was not done as thoroughly as it should have been. The shortage of labor was also responsible for some work being left unfinished that was planned for this year. The price of labor and teams was advanced to meet the market prices. Last year the price for laborers was $2.50 and $2.75 a day, and teams $6.50, while this year the prices were advanced to $3.50 for laborers and $7.50 for teams. These increases were made after the appropriations were voted and naturally affected the amount of work done, although the appropriation committee partly made up for this increase by a transfer from the reserve fund. The general advance in cost in all materials used by the department amounted to a considerable sum, as in some cases the advance was as high as 100 per cent.

Street Oiling.

This work constituted the largest item of expense and was especially heavy this year, as the price of Tarvia advanced from $0.061 a gallon to $0.121, an increase of approximately 100 per cent. The cost of applying and sanding also increased on account of the advance in price of labor and teams.

In the year 1917, 149,940 lineal feet of streets were treated with Tarvia B, at a cost of $10,332.61, this year 139,505 feet were oiled and the cost was $16,389.96, showing an increased cost of $6,057.35, and less miles of streets treated. This year 90,390 gallons of Tarvia were used as compared to 100,628 gallons the previous year. Unless some plan is adopted for extensive construction next year I would advise that at least 120,000 gallons of Taryia be used, as there is every indication at this time that our gravel roads will be badly broken by spring, due to the frequent freezing and thawing. It would also be advisable to increase this work as it is impossible to hold the surface of a gravel road, that is subjected to much automobile traffic, without an oil or tar binder.

The rate of street sprinkling assessment, that is levied on abutters where oiling is done, was increased 50 per cent to meet a portion of this increase in cost, but now that so many streets are treated it is a question if this assessment should not be done away with and the entire cost taken from the general tax levy, as practically every person in town receives some benefit from it.

The value of the department's oil distributor is readily seen by the fact that had we hired this work done it would have cost at the rate of three cents a gallon for applying, or $2711.70 for the amount we used. Figuring the cost of operating the distributor, including tires and repairs at $15 a day, for forty-eight days, the time the truck was used on this work, would show an expense of $720; during these forty-eight days we applied Tarvia for two neighboring towns for which we received $241.50, making the cost of our own work $478.50, showing a saving of $2233.20 in this one item. We have operated this distributor now for two seasons with less than $10 expense for repairs and the repairs to the truck have been likewise small.

Maintenance Work.

This work has been done along the lines of the previous two years. The chief work being in shaping up roads with the maintenance roller, road drag and scraper, previous to applying Tarvia. Work of repairing holes and breaks on Tarvia treated streets was curtailed somewhat by the inability to get material.

Maintenance work in Weymouth is especially expensive, due to the fact that we have but little permanent construction, the greater portion being gravel roads which in many cases have but little foundation. At present we are doing little towards solving the yearly increased cost of maintenance work, and I can see no hope of cutting down the costs of this work unless more headway is made towards permanent construction. The increased use of trucks and automobiles has been great this past year and is bound to continue so and the demands of the public are for roads that can be used 365 days a year. It would seem that a possible solution would be a bond issue for permanent construction. An issue of $100,000, the work to extend over a period of five years and the bonds issued as required during this period, would enable a comprehensive plan of permanent construction being carried out. The investment of such a sum would provide for the construction of the greater part of our main connecting roads, such as Broad, Pleasant, Union, Washington and North Streets. The money saved in maintenance would in the period of even five years, the length of time that bonds can be issued for bituminous macadam construction, be sufficient to retire a considerable portion of the issue and would more than pay for themselves in a short time. Weymouth at present is spending money on its roads in an unbusinesslike way and until the heavy expense of maintenance is eliminated by building more permanent roads, the appropriations will have to be greater as the expense is governed more by the traffic than by the cost of labor and materials.

Figures obtained from the Massachusetts Highway Commission will perhaps illustrate the low cost of maintaining a bituminous macadam road as compared to the cost of maintaining our gravel roads. It cost the State for maintenance on Washington street, from Main to the Hingham line, a distance of about two and one-sixth miles, for the year 1917, $159.21 and for the past year $116.40, an average of about $68 a mile for each year. Our main gravel roads treated with Tarvia B, cost about $600 a mile for applying Tarvia and $300 a mile for maintenance each year. While these figures show a marked difference there is a still greater saving when the cost of hauling and wear and tear on vehicles is considered.

This past year the Massachusetts Highway Commission resurfaced Main Street from Nash's Corner to Washington Street with a form of construction that I believe would be most economical for this town to adopt. The old road bed was undisturbed except where it was necessary to bring the surface to a proper grade and upon this foundation a four-inch layer of hot asphalt, sand and gravel was spread and raked to a uniform grade. This mixture was then rolled while hot with a tandem roller. A type of this sort requires practically no surface treatment, is strong enough to sustain fairly heavy traffic, is dustless and is not slippery and can be built for less money than a bituminous macadam road where the present foundation is good. This type of construction has passed the experimental stage and is used extensively by the Massachusetts Highway Commission.

Sidewalks.

No new work was done on the construction of permanent sidewalks, as it was felt that such work was not absolutely necessary. A larger amount of work than usual was done on gravel sidewalks, especially on many of the side streets. Sidewalks on the following streets were resurfaced in part: Sherwood Road, Pearl, Bridge, North, Parnell, Bayview, Norton, East, Sea, Commercial, Madison, High, Cedar, Hawthorne, Whitman, Cain Ave., Middle, Laurel, Center, Washington, Richmond, Prospect, Summer, White, Union, Broad, Pleasant, Derby, Tower Ave., Torrey and Randolph.

New Work and Reconstruction.

The only new work done this year was the construction of Sherwood Road and the widening of parts of Summer and Winter Streets. These jobs were comparatively small and urgently needed.

Under reconstruction the largest piece of work consisted in improving Washington Street between Lincoln and Washington Squares. This piece of road is undoubtedly the most heavily traveled street in town and one on which the most money has been expended.

One thousand dollars was set aside for improving this road and this amount was exceeded by $363.66. To make $1000 do the work of eight or nine thousand, the amount that should be expended, was out of the question and the problem resolved itself into how this money could be spent to the best advantage. A study of conditions showed that on the north side of the road from Lincoln square to the crest of the hill the foundation was mostly clay, that the water from the hillside drained into the foundation causing this part to break up every spring. From the crest of the hill to Washington Square the foundation was good and the surface composed of broken stone although in a very uneven condition. The south side of the road showed nothing but a gravel road very much worn out, with the foundation fair. It was obvious that with the money available that little could be done in a permanent nature on the south side, so the following plan was carried out. Beginning at Lincoln Square on the north side an 8-inch tile drain was laid in a trench three and one-half feet deep dug in the gutter and filled with crushed stone to the proposed grade. This drain was run towards Washington Square 208 feet, then connected with the drain that begins at Richmond Street by means of a blind drain, the idea being to prevent ground water entering the foundation of the road. The old road bed between this trench and the car track was excavated, a six-inch tarvia macadam surface constructed, the remainder of the road on this side of the hill was broken up, harrowed and given a light coat of No. 2 stone and then bound with stone dust and Tarvia. The entire length of the south side was simply broken up and resurfaced with screened gravel, rolled and treated with Tarvia B, the expectation being that this would provide a fairly smooth surface during the summer months. It is absolutely impossible to maintain this side of the street, with the present heavy traffic unless a more permanent pavement is laid and I consider this of primary importance in making next year's plans for road work.

Essex Street, from Commercial Street to the Town Farm, was resurfaced with cinders and gravel and a decided improvement made on this much neglected street. One hundred dollars was expended to further remove the ledge at the Pratt School on Pleasant Street and the road widened at this point about three feet. A much needed paved gutter was constructed on King Oak Hill and should be extended to the bottom of the hill next year. Lake Street was greatly improved by resurfacing with gravel and rolling. Hillcrest Road was worked to the line and a sidewalk built on eastern side. Work on Hawthorne Street started the previous year was completed and is now in good condition.

Provisions in the budget were made for resurfacing Bates Avenue, but lack of labor, especially roller men, made it impossible to accomplish this year. This short piece of road should have a broken stone surface as the drainage conditions are poor and present surface worn out. Holbrook Road was also scheduled for attention but suffered from the same reasons and should be attended to early next year. Plans were also made to resurface a portion of Pleasant Street near Park Street, but inability to get Tarvia prevented this work being done.

Cliff Street at North Weymouth was reshaped and given a coat of gravel.

Drains and Catch Basins.

Considerable progress was made in the construction of these essential parts of road construction. A drainage easement was purchased from Louis Cook to take care of surface water on part of Union and White Streets. Two catch basins were built on White Street and a drain laid across Union Street terminating on land of Louis Cook. Catch basins were also built on Lake, Middle, Tremont, Squanto Road and Hollis Streets and outlet drains constructed. Stone drains on Park, Summer, East and Chard Streets were thoroughly cleaned out and sidewalks repaired; a pipe drain was laid across Essex Street near Broad. Both drains and catch basins were regularly cleaned out and but little trouble experienced.

A larger drain is needed in Broad Street near Sylvester's Market. An unsuccessful attempt was made to obtain an easement to the meadow in the rear and it would seem at present that the most practical solution would be to put a good sized drain in Broad Street extending from Randall Avenue to the Herring Brook.

Bridges.

The cost of Weymouth's share of the maintenance of the Fore River Bridge was $1,450.00 greatly exceeding the estimate of $800.00 made at the time of making the appropriations. It would seem that the payment for this work should come from a special appropriation rather than from the highway account as this department has nothing to do with the work or no control regarding it. The wooden bridge on Pearl Street was replaced by a reinforced concrete bridge strong enough to carry a fifteen-ton load. The elimination of this wooden structure adds to the safety of the traveling public and ends the expense of maintenance. This work was contracted to J. W. Pratt for the sum of $416.75, the town furnishing the sand, crushed stone and two catch basin covers. We have now but one wooden bridge in town, that which crosses the Herring Brook on Commercial Street. This should be replaced by a bridge similar to the one on Pearl Street.

Crusher.

This plant was operated but very little due to the fact that but little work was done in the line of constructing stone roads. The crusher is still located at the Plymouth Quarries and is in good working condition, but if any large amount of work is planned, a larger sized crusher should be installed as the capacity of the present plant is small.

Snow Removal.

The cost of this work was comparatively small as no large storms occurred, the chief expense being in sanding walks. The department has purchased a Champion snow plow that can be attached to our automobile truck, for the purpose of leveling snow on the roads. This attachment gives every indication of being a valuable piece of equipment and will be useful in keeping the roads open for travel during the winter months. A new schedule of rates for snow plowing was adopted the latter part of the year, making an increase of fifty cents an hour for horse and man on work done before 8 A. M.

Equipment.

The present equipment of the department is good. The purchase of a Ford truck for the use of the Superintendent has been a valuable addition as it has furnished a means of transporting men and tools from one job to another quickly and has been used extensively in hauling materials. The Netco truck purchased in May, 1917, has run about 14,000 miles with but little expense for repairs and still has the original set of tires on front. The addition of the snow plow attachment has made this truck useful the year round and with the increased cost of teams and length of hauls required, the question of the purchase of another truck should be carefully considered.

The matter of providing a storage house for the department should be taken up again and a suitable building erected. Two years ago plans were drawn for such a building but the matter dropped as the bids greatly exceeded the estimate. We are now renting the workshop at H. K. Cushings garage and using part of the sheds at the Town Farm. An inventory of equipment shows a valuation of about $12,500.00 and a town the size of Weymouth should own a suitable building for this purpose.

General Repairs and Miscellaneous Work.

Under the heading of general repairs such work as the scraping and reshaping of roads and their maintenance throughout the year was done. A concrete retaining wall was built on Randall Avenue, abutting the property of Austin J. Tirrell and the sidewalk widened at a cost of $124.30. Hunt Street was resurfaced with material excavated in the building of Washington Street and Randolph and Forest Streets were given a general overhauling. Graveling was done on Pine and Oak Streets and Wessagusett Road, Sea, Lincoln, and Green Streets were improved. New guide boards were erected at the corner of Pleasant and Elm, corner of Middle and Washington and at the junction of Middle and Commercial Streets. Street signs were erected on several streets and metal warning signs to designate school houses and dangerous points were also placed where needed. Guard rails were built on several streets for the protection of travel and considerable painting of old rails and fences done. Street cleaning was curtailed somewhat in the main squares due to the scarcity of labor and the push cart patrol was not maintained as during the previous year.

The following summary shows the cost of the various operations of the department compiled from daily reports:

THE REPORT OF THE PARK COMMISSIONERS

Webb Park

During the year 1918 Webb Park was made as much better as the last appropriation would allow and while the cost of labor was so high that each weekly payroll made a deep inroad in available funds the work accomplished by Michael E. Cohan, as caretaker, was thorough and telling.

In the early Spring all trees were grubbed around and all dead-wood removed and burned. Decayed trees were cleaned and cemented. All briars and weeds were mowed down and destroyed.

Ten new seats or benches were set out and oiled while all seats, 24 in number, were painted.

The seats in the bandstand were painted, the railing received a coat of asphaltum and the bandstand was given a coat of shellac inside and paint outside. The flag staff was painted and re-roped.

Many old stumps were removed and large stones around the bandstand were buried or broken up thus smoothing the ground so the grass can be cut with a lawn mower which means eventually attractive green lawns.

Dahlias and nasturtiums were planted in the flower gardens and a number of new flower gardens were laid out and will be ready in the Spring for use. Donations of bulbs, plants and seeds will be appreciated. A variety of shrubs has been promised and we hope to be prepared to accept them the coming Spring.

Around the pipe, that furnishes drinking water for the people who visit the park, a substantial cement foundation for a bubbler was built by Eugene O'Connor who is always ready to do for Webb Park a little better job than he is paid for doing. We appreciate his interest.

A suitable blind drain for taking care of waste water was built and necessary grading around the cement foundation was done.

As long as the money lasted we kept at least one man at work and the park was kept mowed and free of all papers and rubbish.

Two new trees were set out and roots of ivy were planted beside the bandstand.

The interest in this park increases each year as there is hardly a day in seasonable weather that citizens do not make use of it. On a hot summer's night there is no cooler spot in town and especially in the bandstand where citizens gather and talk over the topics of the day into the wee small hours.

On account of so many of the town's young men being across seas, on the seas, or in camp in the service of Uncle Sam, but one Field Day was attempted and that was held by the Bible Class of the First Baptist Church who very graciously thanked the commissioners for the use of the park. So great was the success that a request was immediately made for the use of the same for a Field Day during the Summer of 1919.

The only fault found by the users of Webb Park is the absence of a building with lavatories. We have tried to convince the Appropriation Committee that it is an absolute necessity and we have tried to interest the Board of Health in the matter but without response.

Nothing has been done by the Street Department to remedy the evil of surface water flowing onto the park nor has any step been taken to build a suitable sidewalk on Summit Street along the front of the park.

We hope that our suggestions regarding these two important matters will soon meet with favor by the departments in whose power it is to make Webb Park and surroundings as they should be.

Great Hill Park

The up-keep and development of Great Hill Park is beyond our appropriation therefore we felt it a waste of money to use it in a way that would show no results and spent none on this spot.

Beals Park

Beals Park was looked after as well as existing circumstances would allow. There are a number of things we would like to do to make this park more attractive. A serviceable walk should be built across the park and the pond cleaned and walled. For the safety of many citizens who use the park as a short cut, we keep burning a large electric light at an expense we feel should be carried by the street lighting appropriation. We hope the town will place this expense where it will hardly be felt that we may have the use of the money, now paid for this light, in the work of developing Beals Park.

Bailey Green

Bailey Green was kept mowed and shrubs kept trimmed during the year, and we know of nothing more that can be done to improve this spot until after the street is regraded and the Green curbed, as was voted a few years ago.

TREES AND SHRUBS

Some of both should be set out each year in our parks, at least enough to replace those winter-killed or broken down by thoughtless people. We will gladly do our part with a liberal appropriation.

PLAYGROUNDS

Webb Park

The playground at Webb Park has had generous use. All apparatus is in good order, wood parts having received a coat of oil or paint and all iron work a coat of asphaltum. Uprights of bars and swings were firmly cemented in the ground and necessary grading done.

The chain swings have gone through the year without replacement and without accident but "safety first" demands new chains soon, those now in use having seen four years of service—summer and winter. Long cement runs were made under the high swings which should prevent constant wearing away by feet and storms.

The driveway to the ball field was filled in and graded.

During clean-up week we invited the collectors of rubbish to dump in a hollow in the left end of the ball field and we received such a supply of tin cans, old bedsteads and such that we could not find enough filling nearby to cover the same. We still invite the Street Department to donate a few loads of waste filling whenever possible. We cannot receive too much in order to carry out our plans for making a better ball field. It can be and will be if everybody who can will help.

The back-stop, on account of shortage of fuel last winter, was depleted of boards and we were obliged to re-board and paint the same.

The diamond is in fairly good condition but a few loads of loam will put it in the shape we would like to see it. The boys deserve it and we hope in time to give it to them.

Beals Park

The apparatus at Beals Park Playground has been kept in good condition and has been well used.

Lovell's Corner

As was voted at the last annual town meeting, we leased a lot of land at Lovell's Corner of Chas. H. Lovell for one year, the same to be used as a playground. We believe that the youth of Lovell's Corner thoroughly enjoyed their privilege and that the investment was a good one, but we also believe that it would be wiser for the town to buy land at Lovell's Corner for the purpose of a playground and install a proper outfit for the enjoyment of all the citizens of the community.

BATH HOUSE

Instructed by the voters, we attempted to procure the parcels of land owned by Annie K. Jones and W. C. Cherrington situated in Ward 1 on River St., the same having about 450 foot frontage on the Weymouth Fore River, an ideal spot for bathing purposes, but as we met with no success in buying the land we turned the matter over to the town counsel requesting that the land be taken by right of eminent domain. To date we have had no report as to the outcome of his proceedings.

Chairman Kelley of the Board of Selectmen and Russell H. Whiting, civil engineer, visited the land in question, with one of your park commissioners and have given their earnest support in the project. We hope that before another summer arrives, land for a bath house will have been secured and a bath house built.

DONATIONS

But one donation was received during 1918 and that was one of ten dollars, given by the Magnolia Social Club to be used on Webb Park.

APPROPRIATIONS

We appeared before the Appropriation Committee a year ago and suggested that $1200. be raised and appropriated for parks and playgrounds but without success. Our allotment was $500. of which $100. was to be paid for the leasing for one year of a parcel of land at Lovell's Corner to be used as a playground. This left $400. to be spread as best we could and while the most of it was spent on Webb Park because this park was under development and needed all possible for results, we used part of the $400. on Beals Park and Bailey Green.

Our parks and playgrounds have developed to the extent that $500 will barely pay for up-keep and if we are to continue this development and attempt to keep up with other towns in this important work more money must be provided or we will be at a stand-still. Towns of much smaller population and with less attractive places as parks appropriate much more than Weymouth for such purposes.

We have repeatedly said that there is no limit to park building and where we might year after year tell of the things we would like to do, it will get us nowhere without better support and co-operation of the citizens and especially by the appropriation committee who are in a sense the advisory committee of the citizens. To carry on the work and to get where we should have been years ago means money and if the town will raise and appropriate a sum of money, not too small, we will give our time and honest judgment in getting the best results possible. $3000 would be a reasonable amount for this purpose for 1919. We ask the earnest support of the citizens in our endeavor to provide parks and playgrounds that will be a credit to Weymouth.

CHANGE IN PARK COMMISSIONERS

REPORT OF LIGHTING COMMITTEE

Weymouth, January 1st, 1919.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

The Lighting Committee respectfully submit the following report:

At the Annual Town Meeting held in March 1918, $14,400 was raised and appropriated for electric lighting.

This year we should have $15000 to cover the new lights called for at the last annual town meeting and other new lights that are much needed.

Every year we call attention to the number of broken lights but the remedy does not seem to have been found as the record kept by us the last year show that 513 lamps were broken.

The rebates for the year were $40.

Your committee feel that the service during the year has been exceptionally good considering the labor, fuel and other conditions due to the War, and the Weymouth Light & Power Co. have been ever ready to adjust any defects appearing from time to time.

Yours respectfully,

SIDNEY G. DUNBAR,
WINSLOW M. TIRRELL,
WALTER W. PRATT,
RUSSELL B. WORSTER,
MATTHEW O. DOWD.

REPORT OF THE SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Weymouth, Mass., Dec. 31, 1918.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the town of Weymouth,

Gentlemen:—

During the last year the duties of the sealer, were increased through the efforts of the Food Administration to submit prices every week, to see that our merchants kept within due bounds in their prices, which was done under my supervision with the assistance of volunteers of which I want to now thank publicly as our services were all free.

During the year, through the Town Treasurer, who is custodian of all property of my department authorized me to purchase a new "Standard" scale and cabinet to replace the one that was damaged at the Town Home fire. This has been done and is now located at my office in Washington Square, it is a fine up to date scale, of which the Town should be proud, and I invite all townspeople to call and inspect the same.

While the duties of the sealer have been in times past looked upon in a light manner, if you only realize he is your Inspector or Protector to see that you all receive sixteen ounces for a pound and a gallon for a gallon and while I believe your merchants are honest, serious mistakes have been made and called to my attention.

During the year I secured sixteen convictions in the court as follows—Pedling without license 10, Short weight on ice 3, short measure of wood 1, short measure of kerosene 2, the same man twice convicted who paid the court $40 in fines. During the last two years the Junk Dealers have been placed under the direction of my office, fourteen were granted licenses who pay $20 each for the same, also 20 Fish, Fruit and Vegetable licenses were granted, they paying $10 each.

Gasoline pumps have come into prominence during the last two years we now having 24 on our highways. In regard to the last two matters I speak of two years from the fact that by mistake my report for the year 1917 did not reach the town report. My general work for the year for sealing is as follows. I sealed 2188 articles and condemned 22.

Respectfully submitted

RUSSELL B. WORSTER,

Sealer.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF MOTH WORK

So. Weymouth, Jan. 8, 1919.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Weymouth,

Gentlemen:

Herewith I submit my report as Superintendent of the Moth Department for 1918. Owing to the scarcity of help we have been shorthanded all through the spraying season and when we started our creasoting work we started with one man when we should have had at least six, as owing to the distribution of firewood taken from badly Moth infested sections we are finding bad conditions all through the Town. Let us hope that when the boys come home, some of them will enlist in this work as they have shown such proficiency in cleaning up pests over there. The quotations of price on Arsenate of Lead at present are about the same as last year and on hose even higher than a year ago. We have repaired some of our old hose and it may help out some but we shall have to buy some new hose before the spraying season begins.

Respectfully submitted,

C. L. MERRITT.

REPORT OF THE TREE WARDEN

So. Weymouth, Jan. 8, 1919.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Weymouth,

Gentlemen:

Working under our curtailed appropriation we have set out very few new trees in the past year, most of them being set to replace dead trees removed. We have been all through the Town removing dead limbs and have sprayed practically all Town trees.

Respectfully submitted,

C. L. MERRITT,
Tree Warden.

REPORT OF TOWN SURVEY AND ENGINEERING WORK

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the town of Weymouth,

Gentlemen:—

I submit herewith my twelfth annual report on the town survey work, with a brief summary of other surveying or engineering work done during the past year.

During the year the revision of the town survey sheets to April 1, 1918 was completed and a set of prints furnished the Assessors, and the revision of the sheets to April 1, 1919 is in progress.

In addition to the revision work a considerable time, principally registry and office work, was given to the area around the easterly side of Whitman's Pond, and between said Pond and Washington and Pleasant Streets. This area covered a portion of four of the town survey sheets which had heretofore been left blank. The location of parcels not recently taxed has been established and the owners over practically the entire area determined.

Looking at the approximate number of transfers during the last eleven years, we start with 365 in 1908 increasing each year to a maximum of 600 in 1912; diminishing during the following two years to 450 in 1914, and again increasing to 600 in 1917 with about the same number in 1918, giving an average for the eleven years of approximately 518; for the last eight years of approximately 546; and during the last two years of about 600.

For the revision to April 1, 1919 three of the original tracings (worn by the annual erasures and changes) in Ward One will have to be replaced by new tracings, now in progress. These are the first sheets redrawn and there will probably need to be only a few (out of a total of 65 sheets) replaced each succeeding year.

Various prints of the town survey sheets and several of the town maps have been sold since the last report.

In accordance with instructions from your Board, prints covering certain parts of Weymouth, and also the lithograph maps, have not been sold except to well known or local parties during the year.

In my report for 1913 I spoke of the desirability of having a system of levels run throughout the town and elevations taken at various extremes along the streets and adjacent lands, and have mentioned it in each subsequent report. I think this work should be started and a little done on the same each year, in conjunction with the town survey work.

Owing to prevailing conditions quite a little work ordinarily done each year by the town has been omitted. There has been no construction of permanent (tar concrete) sidewalks this year, and all engineering and construction work has been omitted as far as possible. There was, however, during the year, some work necessary to be done among which was the following:—the relocation of a portion of Center Street, and the relocation of a part of Middle Street with the attendant survey and plan in each case; giving grades for various drains or gutters; or taking a profile of, or giving grades for a street; investigating the street line shown on plans filed for registration in the land court in cases where the town had received notice; giving street lines in accordance with instructions from your Board where a request from an abuttor had been filed with the Selectmen; the yearly measurement of the street oiling, with schedule of same for the Assessors; and also some other work in a number of minor cases.

During the coming year there should be stone bounds set to mark the streets which have been recently accepted by the town, there having been but few placed since 1914 when 73 were set. All of the new streets should be marked when thus accepted and it would be well to mark one or more other important streets each year.

In closing I wish to extend my thanks to the Board of Selectmen, and other officials of the town for their continued confidence and courtesy; and also to all others who have in any way aided me or my assistants.

Respectfully submitted,

RUSSELL H. WHITING,
Civil Engineer.

All books from the circulating department, even the new fiction, may be kept for fourteen days. Recent numbers of magazines are limited to seven days with no renewal.

A book cannot be transferred from one card to another, but may be renewed by mail or *telephone, unless stamped THIS BOOK CANNOT BE RENEWED. The shelf number or title of the book and the borrower's name should be stated when the request for renewal is made.

This printed catalogue of 132 pages can be purchased at the nominal price of fifteen cents. The set of SIX CLASS LISTS, which make a complete printed catalogue of the Tufts Library, from 1879 to 1917, can be purchased for fifty cents.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE TUFTS LIBRARY

The fortieth annual report of the Board of Trustees of the Tufts Library is respectfully submitted as follows:

During the year 1918, the library was open only 282 days. The total circulation was 55,953, with an average of 198+a day. Of this total number, 30,372 volumes were circulated through the schools and the delivery stations. The largest daily circulation was 599, on February 15, and the smallest was 37, on November 7.

The number distributed through the delivery stations is shown in the following table:

‡Discontinued March 8, 1918.

Collections of books, amounting to 12,669 volumes, were circulated through 9 schools, including 2 Sunday schools.

On 82 Student's cards 934 books were borrowed.

The registration of borrowers, since April, 1909, records 4705 applications, 318 of which were made in 1918.

The annual examination of the books shows that 31 books were lost, only one of which was paid for by the borrower, 9 books were burned, on account of contagious diseases; 302 books were discarded as unfit for circulation; 2 books previously reported lost were found; 9 guide books were sent to the War Department, at Washington; and 40 books are, at present, unaccounted for.

The total number of accessions, on December 31, 1918, was 35217, of which number, 449 were added during the year; including 64 replacements, 48 gifts, and 30 bound periodicals. 516 books were rebound.

One reason why the accessions were fewer than usual is that a part of the money which ordinarily would have been spent for books, was used to pay for the printing of Class List, No. 6. This Class List has been for sale at the library and at the delivery stations, since March, 1918. Further details may be found in the Information pages which precede the body of this report.

A list of books added to the library during 1918, excepting the duplicates and the replacements, and those books which are listed elsewhere in this report, may be found in Appendix B—General Literature. ‡

The books purchased from the Susannah Hunt Stetson fund, the Augustus J. Richards fund, and the Tirrell Donation, are listed in Appendix C—Books purchased from Special Funds.

The following additions were made to the reference department: American year book, 1917; Encyclopedia of religion and ethics, ed. by James Hastings, and others (v.

‡This list includes the titles of a few books which were added in December, 1917, after the publication of Class List, No. 6, and which were not listed in last year's report. With these additions, this Report completes the catalogue of the books in the library to January 1, 1919.

9.): Massachusetts—Journal of the House of Representatives, 1917; Journal of the Senate, 1917; Manual of the General Court, 1918; General acts, 1917; Special acts, and resolves, 1917; and Vital records of Carlisle, Charlemont, Cohasset, East Bridgewater, Harvard, Harwich, Milford, Northbridge, Salem (v. 2.), Shirley, Stoneham, West Newbury, Westport and Windsor; History of Norfolk county, Massachusetts, 1622-1918 (2 v.) ed. by Louis A. Cook.

The list of periodicals, as given in Appendix D varies but little from that of last year. The Canada weekly, the Congregationalist and Advance, and the Universalist leader, are no longer presented to the library. America, Italy today, the Bulletin of the Japan society, and the Red cross magazine, are now given. The library now subscribes for the Pictorial review, the Proceedings of the Academy of political science, and the Unpopular review.

The collections of pictures from the Library Art club, which were exhibited in the Reading room throughout the year, were as follows: Petrograd and its environs; Renaissance doorways; Baby beasts, birds and pets, by E. J. Detmold; Photographs illustrative of events in the year 1492; Roundabout Santé Fe, New Mexico; Francis Hopkinson Smith; Hungary; Canadian Pacific railway, Glacier and its vicinity; Belgium, No. 2; Algiers; Animal kingdom; American illustrators; Boston playgrounds; Niagara Falls.

The Gifts of the year included: annual reports, bulletins, and other publications, from 33 libraries; and books, pamphlets and periodicals, from individual donors and societies; and publications from the State and Federal governments, many of which were published in connection with the war work of the United States.

Among the additions made to the Fifield Collection by Mrs. Mary Fifield King is a Bulletin of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities. This bulletin is largely given up to illustrations of the antique wall paper called "A holiday in Paris" which was put on the walls of the Richards house, in Washington Square, Weymouth, over a century ago. In July, 1917, the Richards heirs gave this wall paper to the society mentioned above. It was successfully removed and "taken into Boston to the headquarters of the society, the famous Harrison Gray Otis house at the West End, which is being restored to some of its former glories in Revolutionary times. The Bulletin also speaks of the quaint little shop opposite the Richards house" A more extended account of this gift was in the Weymouth Gazette of December 6, 1918. The Richards house, from which the paper was taken, was the former home of Miss Louisa C. Richards, who recently resigned her position as assistant at the Tufts library.

Mrs. King also presented to the library a photographic copy of a painting of Dr. Cotton Tufts, a distinguished citizen of Weymouth, who was the grandfather of Quincy and Susan Tufts, the founders of the library.

In the letter of presentation which accompanied the portrait, Mrs. King wrote:—

"It has long been my wish, since I realized that Weymouth had no portrait of Dr. Cotton Tufts, to present a picture of him to the library. . . .

"The original is in the Medical Library, and very highly valued. If any other exists it would certainly not be of this period. The canvas is about two by three feet and was unfortunately mounted on wood, which with the lapse of years, and heat and cold, has almost hopelessly blistered the surface

"An expert photographer has made repeated experiments till finally he has obtained the portrait I now send to you. For some reason pigments of the old paint would not respond to the best photographic lenses, and prints had to be made again and again to strengthen and bring up. Of course the original still has an excellent color, but it would not print.

"In any case I feel that the thing is done as well as possible, and I take pleasure in giving it in memory of Dr. Noah Fifeild, the beloved colleague and friend of Dr. Tufts. . . ."

On account of the epidemic of influenza, the library was closed, by order of the Board of Health, from September 25, to October 21. The library has been closed only once before for a similar reason. This was in 1902, from February 17, until March 10, when the town was threatened with an epidemic of small-pox.

Although the daily average of the circulation exceeded that of last year, the total circulation for this year was materially affected by this closing of the library for more than three weeks.

There was, however, plenty of work to occupy the staff while the doors were closed to the public. In order to gain shelf room, practically all of the books in the stack room were moved, and many bound volumes of periodicals were transferred to the hall above. While the primary purpose of this work was the relief of the congested shelves, it was also preparatory to the adoption of free access, which has been desired for so long a time.

As a further preparation for free access, all the biography which had been shelved previously in two sections, was brought together under the subject and renumbered. A capital B now indicates biography, when followed by the Cutter number for the biographee and the lower case initial of the author's surname; i. e., A Life of George Washington, by E. S. Brooks, is now numbered B.W276b, while one, on the same subject, by P. L. Ford, is B.W276f. These new numbers will not prevent the use of the call-numbers of biography as printed in the Class Lists, but the new arrangement will make the books more easily accessible to the borrowers when they select books for themselves.

Free access to the stack room will probably be granted to adults, as an experiment, in the near future.

The American Library Association has taken an active part in winning the war. The Tufts Library has responded to every call for service, as generously as its circumstances permitted.

The A. L. A. Book Campaign for the Soldiers and Sailors, in March, was advertised by the library, with the result that 220 gift books were sent to the Naval Camp at Hingham, and 120 more to the A. L. A. Dispatch Office, Harvard College Library, Cambridge, Mass., for the American Expeditionary Forces. The Trustees thank the people who generously responded to this call.

The library will continue to forward to the A. L. A. all books which may be sent to the library for this purpose, as books are still needed, and will be needed for the men in service, until further notice.

Soldiers in hospitals need also current magazines. The Library War Service urges people "to send current magazines to soldiers by the simple process of putting a one-cent stamp on the front cover."

Nine guide books were sent to the War Department, in response to its urgent request in June, for maps and guide books of "the territory in France, Belgium and Luxemburg held by Germany . . . and likewise in that part of Germany lying west of the line running north and south through Hamburg."

Food exhibits, under the auspices of Mrs. R. S. Hoffman, local leader in Food Conservation for the Norfolk County Agricultural school, were displayed in the delivery room, from February to June. Some of the attractive posters shown with these exhibits were the work of pupils in the Weymouth High school.

Posters and literature, both of which contributed so great a part in arousing the nation, were placed before the people as advantageously as possible. War Savings stamps and Thrift stamps were for sale at the desk, during the year.

The Trustees allowed the Special Aid society of American preparedness, of Ward three, to use the unoccupied rooms in the library building as its headquarters.

Throughout the year the Trustees' room was used by the Legal Advisory Board, for the meetings of the registrants of Ward three, who desired advice in regard to their questionnaires.

In place of Miss Louisa C. Richards, who resigned last year, the Trustees appointed Miss Phyllis E. Palmer, assistant librarian. Miss Palmer was graduated from the Weymouth High School in 1917, and successfully completed a six weeks' course, in the Summer Library Class, at Simmons College, in 1918.

With sincere regret the death of Judge Louis Atwood Cook, on May 16, 1918, is here recorded. He became a member of the Board of Trustees of the Tufts Library in 1894, and was therefore, at the time of his death, the oldest trustee in length of service. Throughout the period of his connection with the library, he manifested a warm interest in its welfare, especially as a member of the Book committee.

In the death of Miss Emma F. Thayer the library has lost the services of one, who, during the seven years of her connection with the library as a substitute, was a faithful and interested worker.

An attempt was made this year to establish a Reading Room, or Branch at East Weymouth. An article was printed in the Warrant for the Annual Town meeting, in March, asking for an appropriation for this purpose, but as the Appropriation Committee did not think it wise to start new enterprises during the war, the article was passed over without action.

Although this effort failed, it opened the way for its consideration later. The desirability of such a Branch was fully recognized by the Trustees, but they realize that special appropriations must be made for its establishment and maintenance.

The Trustees again invite the attention of the people of Weymouth to the need of a children's room and a hall for exhibits, lectures, club and other meetings for social improvement and educational advancement, in the library building. This was mentioned more fully in the report of 1915.

The development of the library for the last few years has been greatly restricted by lack of funds, as the expense of maintenance has been steadily increasing while the annual appropriations have been practically the same for many years. The advance in the price of heating and lighting, the rising cost of books, and periodicals, and supplies of all kinds, renders it impossible to make the dollar of today equal the dollar of yesterday in purchasing power. It seems fitting, also, to state here that the salaries should be increased to be in keeping with the compensation for services in other lines of work.

CLARANCE P. WHITTLE,

By order and in behalf of the Trustees.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

To the Board of Water Commissioners:

The various tables and summaries, covering in detail the work of the department for the year ending Dec. 1, 1918, is submitted herewith.

The outstanding feature of the year's work has been the abnormal cost of maintenance and operation. While only such new construction, and meter installations as seemed absolutely necessary, has been undertaken, and a very small amount expended along these lines, a combination of war prices and adverse physical conditions have brought operating and maintenance costs to a figure almost double that of 1916.

Wasting of water to prevent freezing, during the winter months, and underground leakage caused by freezing, increased the annual pumpage by about fifty per cent., which with coal averaging $2.25 per ton higher than in 1917, and of inferior quality, added about $3000 to the fuel item alone.

There were 27 cases of frozen mains, and 253 frozen services, which with the work on frozen meters, kept two sets of electrical apparatus and three hot water gangs almost continuously employed from Jan. 1 to March 15, the last electrical thawing being done on April 5. The electrical apparatus employed was as follows:

One 50 K. V. A. transformer with water rheostat, necessary switches, ammeters, etc., mounted on a horse drawn wagon, for use on larger mains.

Two 15 K. V. A. transformers with accessories, mounted on a two-ton motor truck, for use on smaller mains and services. These transformers took current from the Weymouth Light & Power Companies lines at 3300 volts, delivering on the secondary side at 110 volts. The current used for thawing ranged from 75 amperes on short new services to 800 amperes on six-inch cast iron mains. The extra outlay on distribution system and services due to freezing amounted to about $2500.

371 meters, or 19 per cent. of all in service were damaged by frost. These were, with very few exceptions, repaired in the departments meter shop, the extra cost of meter maintenance for the year, due to freezing, being about $500.

That the department has been able to tide over this period of high operating expenses, without a further increase in rates, is due partly to the practice of rigid economy, and partly to the fact that for the past two years the normal amount of replacement work has not been done.

This deficiency in replacements must be made up out of earnings as soon as possible, but considering the present high prices of materials it does not seem advisable to attempt any considerable amount of new or replacement work during the coming year. Unless extreme conditions of unemployment demand the starting of work for their relief, it would appear to be better policy to accumulate surplus funds to be expended when the metal market is lower.

At the pumping station, new grates have been installed in No. 2 boiler and the firebox and ashpit linings entirely renewed. Old wooden guides for screens at screen house have been replaced by steel channels set in concrete. Pitometer tests of both pumps show a maximum slip of less than five percent. In connection with slip tests a series of simultaneous gagings were made to determine the relation between the indicated discharge at the gaging point in front of the station, and that at a point some distance down Hollis St., where the flow is not influenced by gates or curves.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED O. STEVENS,

Superintendent.
